

INDEX

	Page
Introduction
Claudio Aranzadi
Interview for the Executive Director of the International Energy Agency Dr. Fatih Birol (as a result of a questionnaire previously sent) .....	25
Chapter I
Geopolitics of Energy and Game Theory .....	31
Manuel Conthe Gutiérrez
Introduction .....	32
The Bathtub Theory .....	32
Game Theory .....	33
The Prisoner's Dilemma .....	33
The Trust Game .....	36
The Chicken Game .....	38
The Called Bluff Game .....	40
International Energy Market .....	42
Sources of primary energy .....	42
World energy demand .....	43
Oil .....	44
Market structure .....	44
The conventional oil market: the OPEC + .....	46
Prisoner's Dilemma .....	48
Factors in the consortium's favour .....	49
Factors that limit the consortium's power .....	50
The unconventional-oil revolution .....	51
Natural gas .....	53
Market structure .....	53
European dependence on Russia .....	54
Geopolitical implications .....	57
The profitability of the long-term investments .....	58
The risk of "obsolescing bargains" .....	59
The renewable resources paradox .....	61

	Page
Combating climate change .....	62
The climate change problem .....	62
From Río (1992) to Paris (2015) .....	65
The Paris Agreement .....	67
The Decarbonisation Challenge .....	68
Favourable factors .....	69
Unfavourable factors .....	69
The European Union's dilemma .....	70
Conclusions .....	71
Chapter II
Canada's Role in Global Energy Markets .....	73
Jennifer Winter
Introduction .....	74
Background and context .....	75
Canadian energy resources .....	76
Canadian energy trade .....	78
Policy change and increasing policy uncertainty .....	81
An energy supplier of the future? .....	85
The future of Canadian oil .....	86
Current context .....	86
The uncertain future of Canadian takeaway capacity .....	94
Future production trends .....	99
LNG ambitions .....	100
Current context .....	100
Future production trends .....	102
Conclusions and a look ahead .....	103
References .....	105
Chapter III
Geostrategy and Energy in the Gulf of Guinea .....	111
Emilio Sánchez de Rojas Díaz
Introduction .....	112
The global scenario .....	113
Geopolitical scenario .....	114
Climate change .....	116
Global energy scenario .....	120
The major powers' energy strategies .....	125
Geographical scenario: the Gulf of Guinea .....	128
Regional Governance .....	130
Governance in the Gulf of Guinea .....	130
Current Security Situation .....	134
Nigeria .....	135
Cameroon .....	137
Democratic Republic of the Congo .....	138
Angola .....	139
Piracy .....	139
The Gulf of Guinea as a geoenergetic region .....	143
The multinationals and other major energy companies .....	146
Environmental problems .....	149
Pollution .....	150
Maritime pollution .....	153

	Page
Local energy policies: energy and development .....	154
The African energy companies .....	158
Conclusions.....	159
Bibliography.....	161
Chapter IV
The Changing Context for the Geopolitics of Energy: A European view on how climate change starts affecting energy security .....	165
Christian Egenhofer y Milan Elkerbout
Introduction.....	166
The emerging concept of energy security .....	167
Box 2.x: What is geo-economics? .....	170
Box: The evolving concept of security of supply and energy security in the 21st century .....	172
EU policy responses.....	174
Turning point market integration and climate change policy .....	174
Energy Union .....	175
The new energy geopolitics and economics.....	178
Security of supply after the 2006 gas crisis .....	179
Box 3.x: Energy and climate policy taking shape: the 20-20 energy and climate package ..	179
External energy policy .....	180
European Energy Security Strategy .....	181
Electrification of the energy system and new value chains .....	183
Digitalisation .....	184
A new energy security policy for the next decade? .....	185
The impact of climate change mitigation on energy security .....	186
Stocks and flows of CO<sub>2</sub>: energy should be decarbonised to stop the flows .....	187
Mitigation: ramping up emission cuts .....	190
How are key sectors doing with cutting emissions? .....	191
Electricity.....	191
Energy-intensive industry.....	191
Transport & mobility.....	193
Buildings .....	193
Agriculture.....	194
Removing carbon: not just to compensate residual emissions .....	194
When mitigation becomes insufficient, adaptation should increase .....	195
Climate policy: pricing carbon is necessary but not sufficient .....	195
Policy interactions: climate policy is never just about the climate .....	197
Security beyond energy.....	198
Global perspectives: how are the major economies approaching climate policy? .....	198
Outlook and conclusions .....	200
Chapter V
Give Peace a Chance: New Opportunities in Saudi Arabia's Geo-economy .....	203
Miguel A. Lasheras
Introduction.....	204
Geo-economy and geo-politics in international strategic relations .....	206
Saudi Arabia within the OPEC and the OPEC+.....	208
Energy policy as a geo-economic tool: the tight oil revolution.....	213
The threat or the opportunity of energy transition for the oil-producing countries.....	216
Economic diversification and Vision 2030 .....	222

	Page
The difficulties involved in SA's economic and social adaptation to energy transition ...	225
The difficulties in giving support to diversification .....	225
The region's geopolitical and geo-economic environment .....	226
The institutional structure of Saudi society .....	227
The characteristics of the Saudi labour market .....	228
Conclusions.....	229
Composition of the working group .....	233

The following text is the English version of those originally written in Spanish (Introduction, and chapters 1, 3 and 5), together with those originally in English (Chapter 2 and 4)