

Strategy Notebook 215-B
The European Union Towards Strategic Autonomy

Spanish
Institute for Strategic Studies

ieee.es
Instituto Español de Estudios Estratégicos

MINISTERIO DE DEFENSA

INDEX

	Page
Introduction .....	9
Dra. Claribel de Castro Sánchez
From a new world order to a multipolar world?.....	9
The path taken by the European Union towards common defence .....	10
Let's take stock of the path taken.....	15
The changing international scene as a vector for change.....	17
Bibliography.....	23
Chapter One
A new strategy for the European Union .....	27
José Luis Pontijas Calderón
Introduction .....	27
The quest for strategic autonomy .....	27
EU strategic autonomy.....	32
A strategic compass for security and defence.....	36
The Strategic Compass (SC) itself .....	37
Introduction.....	38
The world we face.....	39
Our strategic environment.....	39
Strategic implications for the Union .....	40
Act .....	41
Acting together.....	42
Preparing together.....	43
Secure.....	45
Strengthening early warning, intelligence, and secure communications .	45

	Page
Promoting and developing cyber-diplomacy and opposing information manipulation and foreign interference .....	46
Securing European access to strategic domains .....	46
Combating terrorism .....	47
Promoting disarmament, non-proliferation, and arms control .....	47
Enhancing resilience to climate change, disasters and emergencies .....	48
Invest .....	50
Civilian and military capabilities .....	50
Reducing strategic dependencies on new technologies.....	51
Partner .....	52
Multilateral and regional partners .....	53
Bilateral partnerships .....	54
The Union's four strategic challenges .....	57
Strategic autonomy and NATO .....	57
The need to anticipate crises .....	60
The challenge of influence in the international system.....	61
Coherence in the struggle between interests and values.....	63
A credible strategic actor.....	64
Conclusions .....	69
References .....	73
Chapter Two
Strategic autonomy: A place in the sun? The historical and political journey of a necessary ambition .....	75
Luis Andrés Bárcenas Medina
Europe, 100 years on.....	76
Autonomy, an ambition, and a necessity.. ..	82
Three problems, two solutions, one challenge.....	96
Bibliography and references.....	102
Chapter Three
Common Defence Policy .....	109
Carlos Frías Sánchez
Introduction .....	109
The Common Defence Policy in the Treaties of the European Union (Council of the European Union, 2016b) .....	111
'Permanent structured cooperation' in the field of CSDP .....	112
EU-NATO CSDP relations.....	113
Industrial aspects: the European Defence Agency.....	114
Common defence in treaties .....	115
The evolving common defence policy .....	117
2020 Coordinated Annual Defence Review.....	128
The failure of Battlegroups.....	128

	Page
Common defence policy institutions .....	130
Will: C2 and political decision .....	130
Political and Security Committee (PSC) and its associated bodies .....	130
EU External Action Service (EEAS) and its agencies in the field of common defence.....	131
Capability: generating military capabilities.....	133
Knowledge: intelligence and preparation.....	134
EU, NATO, and common European defence.....	135
Conclusions .....	139
Bibliography.....	141
Chapter Four
EU civilian and military missions: a vision of autonomy, agility, and robustness .....	145
Carmen Quesada Alcalá
Introduction .....	145
EU civilian and military missions: In perfect condition?.....	146
A framework for EU civilian and military missions: the strategic autonomy of the Union.....	148
The EU's Strategic Compass and civilian and military missions: act, invest, partner .....	150
EU civilian and military missions in the multilateral context: UN and NATO.....	155
EU civilian and military missions following the Ukraine conflict: a before and after? .....	157
Conclusions .....	159
Bibliography.....	163
Documents .....	164
Chapter Five
European strategic autonomy and major powers .....	167
José Luis Calvo Albero
Introduction .....	167
The nature of strategic autonomy .....	169
The American friend .....	172
The Russian threat .....	174
The Chinese unknown.....	177
Conclusions .....	181
References.....	185
Composition of the working group.....	187
List of Cuadernos de Estrategia.....	189